A Gorgeous Chinese Suit for Negligee Wear

Has several claims to distinction—it comes straight from China—is made of plain or figured Crepe de Chine, woven by Chinese boys on hand looms—and is almost unbelievably heavy. It is put together entirely by hand, and is unusually striking. In royal purple, Chinese red, and green.

A Soap Baby from Paris

—she wears a little less than Eve—and yet a little more—the major part of her costume consisting of a feathered head-dress and the “come-hither” glance in her eyes. And for those who prefer blondes, we have them too.

An Exquisite Im- ported Guimpe

has its origin in Paris—and looks it—for it is a combination of fine laces and hand embroidery, put together by hand, and besides, it boasts the high neck that Paris is wearing with the new tailors.

Thursday We Will Offer
A Special and Timely Purchase of

Women's Smart and Authentic Frocks

—of tricotine, Poiret twill and Canton Crepe,
Made to sell from 39.50 to 49.50

Special at 29.50

New in their fashionable styling, desirable in fabric, and original in trimming, these frocks reflect every nuance of the Winter mode.

A smart Poiret twill suit dress, in a wonderfully slender coat effect, has trigly stitched tucking for its typically French motif, and borrows a dash of brightness from rust-colored silk duvetyne in vestee, and bell sleeve facings.

Hand embroidery in heavy silks distinguishes a tricotine frock, and combines with “nail heads” to form a rich and novel straight-line trimming. Both dresses pictured are in navy or black.

—ALSO—

Very Special at 29.50

A broken assortment of very high-class frocks of Canton crepe and Crepe de Chine, many richly embroidered or beaded. Not all sizes, but wonderful values for the woman whose size is here.
